Peterborough Pride 2016

Our Mission:

“Peterborough Pride” exists to: support & celebrate people of all sexual orientations and gender identities (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Transsexual, Queer, Intersex and Two-Spirit – LGBTTQI2-S); honour and give thanks to those who have come before us and contribute to the resilient spirit and courage of the present struggle for our human rights. We promote a justice seeking future through education and advocacy so that all may participate fully in the life and work of the City of Peterborough and surrounding area with safety, dignity & respect!

Values we believe in:

- Treating all shareholders with respect and dignity
- Being volunteer-driven and recognizing the value and contribution of all shareholders
- Transparency and accountability of actions
- Commitment to anti-oppression principles and practices
- Promoting diversity, inclusivity and accessibility for all
- Celebration!

A Brief History:

In 2003, a group of bold and courageous individuals organized Peterborough’s first Gay Pride parade and Mayor Sylvia Sutherland officially proclaimed September 13th as Gay Pride Day. On that occasion, over 300 people participated in the parade. The proclamation was a strong statement endorsing the importance of diversity in our community.

In 2005, Peterborough Pride participants celebrated the passing of Bill C-38 (the equal marriage bill) when Parliament spoke clearly and loudly in proclaiming that all couples, regardless of gender, are equal in value and equal in law in every province and territory of our country. Ongoing efforts to gain full equal rights for all members of our community have continued to be given profile during Pride events.

For the past 14 years, the Peterborough Pride Committee, made up of representatives of community organizations along with community volunteers, encouraged by overwhelming support from post-secondary institutions, individuals, community service agencies and business people in Peterborough, has committed to making Peterborough Pride an annual celebration.

Each year the celebrations have expanded with more events, a bigger parade, park event, performances, workshops and dances. Although we identify a Pride Week, events now cover more than a week and the celebration is a cornerstone opportunity for the community to gather and express itself publicly. In 2011 for the first time, the Pride proclamation was read by the Mayor, Daryl Bennett and this tradition has continued.

We continue to work with the community to build an enduring organizational structure that includes greater inclusivity and opportunities for all to help make Pride Week what they want it to be. With over 20 events planned during Peterborough Pride 2016, we hope the participation keeps building!

Love Wins!

This year marks the 14th Peterborough Pride celebration. The theme for Pride Week this year is "Love Wins". "Love Wins" means different things to each of us. It reminds us that it is a constant fight. It is also a message of hope, that whatever happens, if we focus on the love, which is important to everyone, people will make the right choices and positive change is inevitable over time.

When we walk or march in the Pride Parade we carry with us the memory of those that have marched and fought over the last 50 and more years to win the rights and respect we now share. While we celebrate inclusiveness and diversity here, we must also highlight the need to continue to push for rights and respect around the world. Everyone should be able to live and love as they wish with dignity and without fear. Freedom from discrimination of any sort should be a basic human right that all humans can enjoy.

Pride Week is an opportunity for us to connect and build community. It has been a rallying point for education and response on issues of interest and importance and it has helped change perceptions. It is an important part of the effort to create a community with room for us to fully, safely, and happily participate in Peterborough life.

Have a great Pride Week and get out and participate all year round in your community!
